CURRENCY:

Naira: N1.00 = 100k
(One Naira = One hundred kobo)

GEOGRAPHY:

Nigeria is situated in the West African sub-region and lies between longitude 3° and 14° East and latitude 4° and 14° degree North above the Equator. It has a land mass of 923,768 square kilometers. The Republic of Niger and Chad borders it to the North; it shares borders to the West with the Republic of Benin while the Republic of Cameroun shares the Eastern borders right down to the shores of the Atlantic Ocean which forms the Southern limits of Nigeria's territory. Nigeria has a coastline of at least 853km. Land is in abundance in Nigeria for agriculture, industrial and commercial activities.

CLIMATE:

The temperature across the country is relatively high with a very narrow variation in seasonal and diurnal range (22° – 36° C). There are two basic seasons. These are the wet season which lasts from April to October and dry season which lasts from November till March. The dry season commences with harmattan, a dry chilly spell that lasts till February and is associated with lower temperatures, a dusty and hazy atmosphere brought about by the North-Easterly winds blowing from the Arabian Peninsular across the Sahara. The second half of the dry season, which runs from February to March, is the hottest period of the year when temperature ranges from 33°C to 38°C. The extremes of the wet seasons are felt on the South-Eastern Coast where annual rainfall might reach a peak of 33°cm.

VEGETATION:

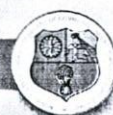

In line with the rainfall distribution a wetter South and drier Northern half, there are two broad vegetation types: Forest and Savannah. There are three variants of each, running as near parallel bands East to West across the country:

Savannah	Forest	Montane Land
Guinea Savannah Sudan Savannah Sahel Savannah	Mangrove Swamp Fresh Water Swamp Salt Water Mangrove Swamp Rain Forest

There is also mountain vegetation of the isolated high plateau regions on the far Eastern extremes of the middle belt of the country (Jos, Mambilla, Obudu).

The savannah, especially Guinea and Sudan, are the major grains, grasses, tubers, vegetable and cotton growing regions.

The tropical evergreen rain forest belt bears timber production and forest development, production of cassava; and plantain growing of fruit trees citrus, oil palm, cocoa, rubber, etc.

INFORMATION ON NACCIMA

The Nigerian Association of Chambers of Commerce, Industry, Mines and Agriculture (NACCIMA), was established in the year 1960 as the umbrella organization for various member chambers within Nigeria.

The Association's membership includes City, State and Bilateral Chambers of Commerce, Business/Professional Associations and Corporate organizations nationwide. At present, the Association's membership is categorized, thus:

City/State Chambers of Commerce	-	72
Bilateral Chambers	-	14
Business/Professional Association	-	15
Corporate Members	-	492

These members account for over Fifty Thousand (50,000) business entities within the country. Membership of NACCIMA is evenly spread across the 6 geographical zones as well as 36 states of Nigeria and in the Federal Capital Territory.

NACCIMA is statutorily recognized by the Federal Government of Nigeria as an integral business partner in fostering economic growth and development. This statute empowers her to nominate representatives for appointment as institutional members of various government bodies, councils as well as committees of several government agencies.

MISSION

As "the Voice of Nigerian Business", ensuring an enabling business environment through policy advocacy, promoting growth and competitiveness of business through proper and prompt information dissemination, using modern technology comparable to the best universal standards of Chambers of Commerce and Industry anywhere in the world".

VISION

"To be revered as the pillar of business that supports the growth and development of private enterprise and private initiatives".

OUR MANDATE

NACCIMA's primary objective is to create a conducive atmosphere for the pursuit of Commerce, Industry and other economic activities of interest to the private sector. In pursuit of this objective, the Association undertakes a wide range of activities which include, but are not limited to the following:

- Collection and dissemination of vital business information
- Monitoring the performance of the economy and making representations to the Nigerian Government and its agencies with regard to the effects of the various economic, fiscal and monetary measures.
- Identification of the obstacles to the establishment and profitable operation of Commerce, industry and other enterprises, especially those arising out of government policies, the administration of such policies and the exertion of pressure to remove such obstacles.
- Organizing seminars and workshops on various aspects of the economy, businesses and management.
- Promotion of commercial, industrial and general economic cooperation between Nigeria and other countries.
- Protecting Nigeria's image and business interests within and outside Nigeria.
- Mediating in commercial disputes.

THE ROLE OF NACCIMA

Primary functions of NACCIMA:

- NACCIMA acts as a spokesman for the business and professional community and translates the group thinking of members into action.
- NACCIMA renders special products and services to members which are effectively beneficial to business, Nigeria and members as a whole.
- The main function of NACCIMA is to promote interest in local business possibilities.
- NACCIMA works to accomplish these goals by championing different functions: economic developer and planner; tourist information Centre; business spokesperson; economic counselor and teacher; government relations specialist; human resources adviser and public relations practitioner.
- Monitoring and giving right to international and domestic trade fairs/exhibitions holding in Nigeria.

PRIME SECTORS AND INVESTMENT AREAS OF THE ECONOMY

There are five industrial sectors, which are considered priority areas of investment because of their linkage effect on other sectors and potential catalytic role in the overall growth of the industrial sectors.

These priority areas, which are most favoured in the administration of government industrial incentives are:-

- Agriculture (Forest-based and agro-allied activities).
- Metallurgical/Engineering industries.
- Chemical/Petrochemical sector.
- Construction sector.
- Mining

Specifically, the industrial projects required from these sectors are:

- Food processing
- Cereal and grain milling
- Fruits, vegetables, vegetable oil, oil seed, roots and tubers
- Sugar, confectioneries and beverage
- Leather and leather products
- Pharmaceutical:
- Foundries and plastics
- Metal fabrication machine tools
- Rubber and plastics
- Textile and weaving apparels
- Cement
- Other non-metallic, building materials, bricks and ceramics

In addition to the twelve identified priority areas mentioned above, investors are also welcome to participate wholly or jointly with Nigerians in the specific projects:

- Small/medium scale plate for sheet metal production.
- Fabrication of spare parts
- Timber/wood processing
- Gemstone cutting and polishing
- Gold processing
- Mini-sugar production plants
- Multi-mineral plants for gypsum, talc, kaolin, marble/dolomite, barite, etc.
- Cement production (700-1 000mm/day)
- Lead and zinc project
- Processing of salt from sea water
- Sodium and triphosphate production
- Mining industrial minerals, bitumen, etc
- Stone cutting and polishing
- Exploitation of coal with a known reserve of 293,140,000 tonnes in Enugu, Kogi and Adamawa State
- Exploitation of coal with nearly 3 billion tonnes of indicated reserves in 17 identified coal fields and over 600 million tonnes of proven reserves.
